Letter Checks Remediation Audit

1 Draft attempt 1 Made errors $1,000 three times as the balance

2 Checker report card F — three mismatches vs ledger $20,370.53

3 Remediation prompt Specific guidance: the current balance only; do not echo complaint amount

4 Draft attempt 2 Corrected one figure to $20,370.53 but left two $1,000 claims

5 REFUSED Record failure — hard refuse. No send. No silent patch.

WORD-LEVEL DIFF - ATTEMPT 1 - 2

Dear Consumer A,

We received your dispute regarding account SYN-441902. Our records show a current balance of $20,370.53. The $1,000 figure referenced in your letter does not match the account balance on file. Please contact us to discuss the $1,000 interest you believe is owed.

Sincerely,
Collections Operations

Balance claim $1,000 does not match ledger current balance $20,370.53 (occurrence 2)
Balance claim $1,000 does not match ledger current balance $20,370.53 (occurrence 3)

Do not echo the consumer complaint amount as the account balance. The only ledger current balance is $20,370.53. Interest rate of $1,000.00 may be referenced only as interest, never as total balance.

Acknowledge the consumer overstates $1,000 only as their assertion. State ledger balance once. Do not state payment of $1,000.

FTE minutes per dispute

Cite as Olga Mironova (CCMR3) ranges — not Nathan's shop, not a universal time-study.

INTAKE 3–5	REVIEW ~4	RESEARCH 20–30
DRAFT 5–7	COMPLIANCE 3–6	CLOSE 3–5

Working range ~38–57 min/dispute · mid ≈ 47–48

Replaces any old “12 min working average” line.

COMPLAINT ≠ DISPUTE · OLGA FRAMING

Complaints and disputes aren't the same thing, but architecture doesn't care — public complaint language, synthetic ledger; point it at your own dispute queue and it's the same metadata, just different buckets and different template letters.

Audit-trail: yes (Olga confirmed).
